

TERMS AND POLICIES

PLEASE READ THE TERMS OF USE AND RELATED POLICIES BEFORE USING THIS WEBSITE

DataSpring, Inc. (DSI) has complete rights to and controls this website (Site). The Terms and Policies described herein apply to all visitors and users of our Site. If you do not agree to be bound by these Terms and Policies you may not use or access any part of our Site or follow links included within our Site. Your use of this Site indicates your consent and agreement to be unconditionally bound by all policies and terms contained within the Site.

We may change our terms and policies periodically. Any such revision is binding and effective immediately upon the publishing of the revised document on our Site. Any use of our Site indicates your agreement to any revised policy. We strongly advise you to review our policies periodically to ensure that you are aware of all policies applying to your use of our Site.

You must be at least 16 years old to use our Site and by using our Site you warrant and represent that you are at least this age.

General Disclaimer

DSI has made every effort to provide complete and accurate information and to provide a secure website using physical, administrative and technical controls. However, all content of this Site, including any links, are “as is” and without representation or warranty of any kind. We assume no liability for damages resulting from the use or misuse of this website including damages from any malicious viruses, software or files that might be activated from your use of this Site. By using this Site you agree that you hold DSI harmless from any damages or costs associated with the use of our Site.

User Content

Any material submitted to this Site through forms or any other means becomes the property of DSI and the user agrees that DSI can use the submitted content in any way deemed appropriate, including removing the content from the Site. You may not submit any illegal or offensive material nor any material that infringes on the rights of any third party.

Information Collection and Use

We collect information including IP addresses and website usage when you visit our Site to help us evaluate how our Site is used in order to improve the content of our Site and for other internal business purposes. In addition we use personally identifiable information we collect on the Site for customer service and in order to respond to communication from you through forms and other submissions.

We do not knowingly collect any information from underage children, in accordance with the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) of 1998.

Unless you consent to us to share information we will not trade, sell or share your personally identifiable information with the exception that if we believe, in our sole discretion, it is reasonable to do so to satisfy laws or government regulations or to comply with legal process or law enforcement requests or to commence legal actions for violation of our website user agreement or to protect DSI’s rights or property.

If you are requested, by email, to provide any personal information please contact us. Spammers have methods to hide their identity by appearing to use other's email addresses. If you have any questions about whether the email you receive that appears to be from DataSpring, Inc. please contact us immediately at (843) 824-0908 or toll free at (877) 824-0908 and do not provide personal information in response to the email.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that allow us to know if your computer or device has visited the site before. They also store information about the type of browser you have, the operating system being used, language preferences and a number of other pieces of information. Cookies do not search your computer for information; they only register the information you provide through your browser.

We use cookies in order to improve our site. They count the number of visitors and repeat visitors and allow us to see how visitors move around the site. We are interested in knowing what links you follow and how long you spend on pages. By collecting this information we can determine whether you are finding the information you are looking for easily or whether we need to change the way our site works.

You can block cookies through your browser settings that will allow you to refuse all or some cookies. If you block all cookies, however, you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.

Unenforceable Provisions. Any unenforceable provision of this policy will not affect the enforceability of other provisions of this policy.
